

EXCERPT OF SCRIPT WITH FORMATTING REMOVED.

The Armstrong Oscars' 2007

VOG

Lords, Ladies, Gentlemen and Members of the Academy, welcome to The Shakespeare Hotel for the inaugural annual Armstrong Oscars 2007.

Please welcome to the stage your host for this evening: The revered Managing Director of Armstrong Limited, the truly unique and distinguished...

Sir [REDACTED]!

Fanfare and cheering. Slide: Welcome to The Armstrong Oscars

[REDACTED].

[REDACTED]

Thank you. You are far too kind. But I like it...

Welcome, again, to the most exciting event in the film industry's calendar. While it is a new ceremony this year, there is already a great deal of excitement across the globe and tonight's entrants have garnered much attention from the studios. I fear we may lose some of our talented performers to Hollywood after tonight's ceremony.

CONTINUES

So, without further ado, let's move along with the first award of the night: The Armstrong Oscar for Best Use of Prop or Costume.

[REDACTED]

The nominees are...

██████████

And the Armstrong Oscar for Best Use of Prop or Costume 2007 goes to... ██████████ Holding slide: The Armstrong Oscars.

██████████

My congratulations to all of tonight's winners. It has been said many times that...

Thank you all for being a fantastic audience and I shall look forward to staring out across the sea of your smiling faces for next year's award ceremony. In the meantime, it is left only for me to wish you all a fantastic evening celebrating your success or drowning your sorrows in the bar. Thank you and good night.

VOG

Ladies and Gentlemen, your host for tonight was Sir ██████████.

Applause.

As Sir ██████████ stated, the bar is now open. Please have a safe and enjoyable night and thank you for being part of The Armstrong Oscars 2007.

Excerpt only with formatting removed.

Please contact

edward@squircleentertainment.com

for further details of scripting and complete, formatted examples.